HAVE A LIVELY DAY

Senators Allen and Vilas Have a Spirited Tilt.

HOMESTEAD BILL DISCUSSED.

Johnson and Maguire of California Occupy Most of the House's Time on a Question of Privilege—Johnson Defended—Boatner Succeeds Crisp on the Ways and Means Committee.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13.—Some lively political sparring marked the later hours of the senate session yesterday. The free homestead bill was under discussion and Mr. Allen found opportunity for questioning Mr. Vilas of Wisconsin, concerning the party differences of last fall. It brought out much difference of opinion as to whether the Democratic platform was made at Chicago or at Indianapolis. Mr. Vilas declared that there was almost nothing in the Chicago platform not inimical to the interests of the government. He insisted that the Indianapolis platform was founded throughout in Democracy. Mr. Allen characterized the Indianapolis platform as a "rump affair." The controversy became very lively and took a wide range.

The homestead bill was further debated but a vote was not reached. Mr. Vilas attacked it as a measure giving away $35,000,000 of government money. Mr. Nelson (Rep. Minn.) Mr. Allen and Mr. Peffer (Pop. Kan.) spoke for the bill.

Mr. Hill (Dem. N. Y.) who has not often addressed the senate of late, spoke in favor of a law fixing four years as the term of fourclass postmasters.

HOUSE PROCEEDINGS.

Day Taken Up in a Wrangle Between Two Members From California.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13.—The house yesterday witnessed a sensational sequel to the remarkable attack made by Mr. Johnson of California on Editor Hearst. Mr. Johnson and Mr. Maguire (Dem., Cal.) were the antagonists. Their words drew out of the publication in the Record as a part of Mr. Maguire's remarks or comments on the former's speech last week, in which Mr. Maguire defended Mr. Hearst, and without the mention of Mr. Johnson's name, detailed some matters in the early life of the latter when he resided in Syracuse, N. Y.

Mr. Johnson got the floor on a question of privilege. He was at times dramatic. He denounced Mr. Maguire's attack on him as wanton and cowardly, and told the story of his indictment 34 years ago in New York for forgery and how he had gone out to California to rear a new home and make a new name. He described his success and how he had been able to pay back every dollar he owed. Then, with bitter invective, he paid his respects to Mr. Maguire and Mr. Cooper of Wisconsin, who last week characterized his attack on Mr. Hearst as cowardly.

Mr. Maguire replied to Mr. Johnson in a sarcastic vein. He told how he had attempted to secure time in which to reply to Mr. Johnson during the debate and had been unable to do so, and how he had printed his defense of a man unable to secure a hearing for himself. He sneered at Mr. Johnson for whining because his attack went home to him and said he should have thought of the grief and anguish he was bringing to another before he assailed Mr. Hearst.

Mr. Poole of N. Y., who represents the Syracuse district made a brief statement in vindication of Mr. Johnson. His motion to expunge Mr. Maguire's remarks from the record was adopted, but a similar motion to expunge Mr. Johnson's remarks about Mr. Hearst was defeated, 83 to 94. This incident overshadowed interest in the house proceedings. Just before the adjournment, however, Speaker Reed announced the committee appointments made vacant by the death of ex-Speaker Crisp, which have caused so much speculation.

Mr. Bailey of Texas, was appointed to the vacancy on the rules committee and Mr. Boutner of Louisiana, to that on the ways and means.

Early in the day the speaker sustained the point of order against the motion to recommit the Pacific funding bill.

Allison Recommended Wilson.
WASHINGTON, Jan. 13.—Senator Allison said yesterday that the report that President-elect McKinley had decided to invite Ex-Representative Wilson of Iowa, to a place in his cabinet as secretary of agriculture at his (Allison's) suggestion, had for its foundation the fact that he had recommended Mr. Wilson for this office to Mr. McKinley. "I hope," he added, "that Mr. Wilson's fitness has so grown upon Major McKinley as to decide him to make the appointment as reported."

Trampled and Gored.
HAGERSTOWN, Ind., Jan. 13.—The wife of Henry Strickler, a prominent young farmer living near here, was attacked by a vicious cow and is believed she is fatally injured. The brute bore the unfortunate woman to the ground and then horned and trampled her, his hoofs cutting and bruising her face and body in a shocking manner. With great difficulty the cow was driven from the woman.

Recovering From Injuries.
MOONEY, Ind., Jan. 13.—Mrs. John T. Deal, who was brutally whipped by her husband a few weeks ago, and whose condition was alarming is now out of danger. Her husband is under $2,000 bond for his appearance in court.

Was Despondent.
MARTINSVILLE, Ills., Jan. 13.—In a fit of despondency caused by a long siege of sickness Washington Cox shot himself in the head. He lingered for hours, and then death came to his release.

Double Celebration.
COLUMBUS, Ind., Jan. 13.—Peter Glick and Harlan Shoemaker, brothers-in-law, yesterday celebrated in the same house the birthday anniversary of the former and the silver anniversary of the latter.

Monetary Conference Effects a Permanent Organization.

COMMISSION VERY PROBABLE.

C. Stuart Patterson of Philadelphia Permanent Chairman and Evans Woolen of Indianapolis, Permanent Secretary. Pertinent Views of Some of the Leading Members of the Convention.

INDIANAPOLIS, Jan. 13.—The monetary convention began yesterday with over 400 delegates in their seats, and seldom, if ever, has a more substantial or finer looking body of men gathered for any particular purpose in the country. There is not a man among them who does not rank high in his own community and exert a large influence at home. C. Stuart Patterson of Philadelphia, was made permanent chairman and Evans Woolen of this city, permanent secretary.

Mr. Patterson is a tall, handsome man of 60 years, full bearded, with streaks of silver in hair and beard that have once been jet black. He is probably the most prominent lawyer in Philadelphia, a director of the Pennsylvania railroad, vice president of the Western Saving fund, director of the Pennsylvania Steel company, and dean of the law school of the University of Pennsylvania. While not a great deal can be presaged from the first session of the convention, it is likely that the plan that has been incubated by the executive committee will be carried through; that is, that the matter will drift into the hands of a commission to be appointed by this convention.

It is likely that the convention will adopt resolutions pointing out the faults of the present currency system and laying down a few fundamental principles upon which a new system should be based. In doing this work there is likely to be a very considerable division of opinion upon the problem of the greenbacks. Many eastern delegates favor a flat declaration for the immediate retirement of the greenbacks and treasury notes of 1890, but those from the west do not believe that it will be easy to accomplish this, and many plans for retaining the greenbacks and obviating the danger with which they continually menace the gold reserve of the treasury will be suggested. A few expressions of leading spirits of the convention will serve to show somewhat the trend of opinion.

H. H. Hanna of Indianapolis said: "I am convinced that our financial system should be reformed to meet the modern needs of commerce, and am convinced that this can best be done by a high-classed commission, and then, after the commission has finished its work, seeing that it is accepted by the country and enacted into law by congress."

George Foster Peabody of New York said: "What we want to do is to get the business men of this country to devise a plan to reform the currency and banking system. This convention is an admirable idea of such a purpose. It is nonpartisan—no politics about it. I think the idea of a commission is very good. It is better than keeping the convention in session until a plan is devised, and also avoids the cumbersome of that plan."

M. E. Ingalls, president of the Big Four, said: "I am against this idea of a commission. That is not the way to get anything through congress or any other legislative body. This convention ought to agree on some general principles for the reformation of the financial system. It can do that. Then, if it is deemed wise, we can appoint a large committee to get the necessary legislation."

Congressman J. H. Walker, chairman of the banking and currency committee of the house said: "I think the convention should declare early and fully the principles upon which the finances of the country and the national banking system should be liberalized and reorganized. The convention should appoint a strong committee to impress upon congress the necessity of immediate action in carrying these views into effect. It is not in favor of a commission. The thing that is absolutely necessary is to divorce completely the banking and currency system of the country from any connection with the United States treasury. The only relation of the government to our banking and currency system should be that of supervision, and the guaranteeing of the final payment of all currency issued by banks in case of insolvency."

All resolutions will go through the committee.

IN COMMISSION.

United States Dynamite Cruiser Vesuvius at League Island.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 13.—The United States dynamite cruiser Vesuvius was formally placed in commission at the League Island navy yard yesterday. The Vesuvius has been thoroughly overhauled and has been provided with all her guns except the two dynamite tubes. It is understood that when the Vesuvius sails from this port her final destination will be the coast of Florida, which she will patrol for filibustering ships.

Harrison Extols Olney.
NEW YORK, Jan. 13.—Ex-President Harrison came quietly to town yesterday alone, on a business trip. He would not talk about President-elect McKinley's cabinet. When asked his opinion of the Venezuelan treaty he said: "Secretary Olney has made for himself a record for able statesmanship of which he may well be proud. His administration of the office will long be remembered as that of a capable, strong official."

Agreement Adopted.
OTTAWA, Ont., Jan. 13.—The dominion cabinet has adopted the agreement which was entered into by Sidney Fisher and the authorities at Washington on the question of quarantine. International quarantine is thus abolished between Canada and the United States and rigid inspection put in force between each country. Quarantine against other countries will remain.

Perkins Re-elected.
SACRAMENTO, Cal., Jan. 13.—George C. Perkins was yesterday reelected United States senator receiving the majority of the votes in both branches of the legislature. The majority on joint ballot was 19.

Olney's Interpretation.
WASHINGTON, Jan. 13.—Secretary Olney, replying to a question of the Russian minister, Mr. E. De Kotsze, as to whether the arbitration treaty with England was offensive and defensive or anything in the nature of an alliance, said that the question might be answered yes and no. That in theory and diplomatic acceptance it was not an alliance, but that it is an alliance in support of the Monroe doctrine, which England recognized by terms of the Venezuelan treaty.

Extended For Two Years.
WASHINGTON, Jan. 13.—The house committee on public lands yesterday authorized a favorable report on a bill providing that old settlers on Northern Pacific railroad lands, whose rights would have been forfeited Jan. 1, 1897, for noncompliance with the law, shall have an additional term of two years in which to comply with the regulations.

CABINET SECRETS.

General Grosvenor Says Sherman Will Be Secretary of State.

CLEVELAND, Jan. 13.—General C. H. Grosvenor came to Cleveland last night from Canton, spent a few hours in conference with Chairman Hanna, and departed for Washington. General Grosvenor said that he did not go to Canton to discuss the tariff situation with Mr. McKinley. "I thoroughly understand Mr. McKinley's views on the tariff," he said, "and it was not necessary for me to discuss that subject with him. I did talk with him about the cabinet situation. Senator Sherman is to be the next secretary of state. He practically told me that himself the other day. I want to say, also, that Senator Sherman's appointment to the state department is not contingent upon the appointment of Mr. Sherman's successor in the senate. That does not enter into it."

Speaking further General Grosvenor said that Senator Allison was not asked to take the state portfolio; that he was offered the treasury portfolio and declined it. Mr. Grosvenor said that Congressman Dingley was out of the question in connection with the treasury department because of his health. The General said that the new tariff bill will be ready for introduction at the extra session of congress, which President McKinley will call in March.

Two Men and Two Women Killed and One Man Fatally Injured.
PITTSBURGH, Jan. 13.—An explosion in the factory of the Columbian Dynamite company at Shannopin, 15 miles below this city, completely demolished the mill and instantly killed two men and two women and badly injured a third man. The dead are:

T. D. STICKNEY, superintendent of the works.
ROSE INMAN, aged 30.
MATTIE INMAN, aged 14.
PETER MCCLOSKEY, employee.
Walter Crane was badly injured but may recover.

It is not known how the explosion occurred, but it is thought one of the employees must have jarred one of the vessels in which the deadly fluid was kept. The force of the explosion was felt for 25 miles around. In nearby towns houses were rocked, store goods were thrown from the shelves and the residents were terror stricken, many believing the shock was due to an earthquake.

IT IS FAIRBANKS.

Bolt in the Caucus to Nominate a United States Senator.

INDIANAPOLIS, Jan. 13.—The senatorial caucus was held last night. The last day of the contest was productive of so much activity that it proved an interruption to legislative business and neither house held an afternoon session. During the day the topic of interest in the senatorial fight was the question of whether there should be an open or secret ballot in the caucus. The followers of McKee desired a secret ballot and fought hard to this end, but the Fairbanks managers favored an open ballot and they soon had obtained the signatures of 55 members to it. When this became known to the opposition things began to take on a rather ugly look. Eighteen or 20 of the members opposed to Mr. Fairbanks, under the leadership of Senator Duncan declared that unless the Fairbanks people would agree to a secret ballot they would decline to go into the caucus.

The Fairbanks managers determined upon a plan of having a secret ballot, with the reservation that any man who cared to might announce his vote. The caucus got under way at 8 o'clock, and the Fairbanks organization went through by acclamation, making Senator Newby chairman and Representative Henderson secretary. When it was decided to proceed with the nomination of the senator, Senator Shively offered a resolution that the vote be by secret ballot, but those desiring to should have the privilege of announcing their vote. This was opposed by the opponents of Fairbanks, led by Senator Hubbell, and the proposition was warmly debated for half an hour. Finally a vote was taken, and the Shively resolution was adopted by a vote 53 to 33. Thereupon a bolt from the caucus was led by Senator Duncan, followed by Senators Hubbell, Bozeman, O'Brien, Collett, Kerns, and Early and Representatives Morgan, Stetler, Roose, Patterson of Fulton, Berry, Medsker, McCrea and Butler, 16 in all. These senators went to the senate chamber and held a caucus there.

The main caucus resumed the resolution and sent committees to the recalcitrant members, but they stayed out fully an hour. Finally they all marched back and after some oratory was indulged in in presenting the names of candidates a ballot was taken, resulting in the nomination of Mr. Fairbanks by a vote of 60 to 35 for the other three, divided as follows: McKee, 11; Wallace, 3; Taylor, 3; Frank B. Posey, 1; General Harrison, 1; Judge John H. Baker, 3. A committee was sent out for Mr. Fairbanks and he addressed the caucus.

ATTACKED CALVARIOUS.

Insurgents Reported to Have Captured and Sacked the Town.

KEY WEST, Fla., Jan. 13.—Reports from Havana are that the insurgents sacked Calvarious, less than ten miles from the city, drove out the Spanish garrison of 700, burned nearly half the place, seized a large amount of supplies, destroyed all they could not carry off, and spiked two fine large field pieces that they could not take away. These two guns had just been received by Weyler only last week. One bore Weyler's name and the inscription, "To aid Weyler's glorious deeds." The retreating Cubans defaced the inscription and placed a placard on it reading: "Butchers need only cleavers." Two hundred wounded soldiers came into Havana Friday and Saturday. All information regarding them was refused, and they were hastily sent to the hospitals.

Confessed in Court.

YOKOHAMA, Jan. 13.—The trial of Mrs. Walter Case, who is charged with poisoning her husband by administering to him arsenic, between Oct. 15 and Oct. 22 last, the day of his death, has been brought to a dramatic close, by the appearance and confession in court of Miss Mary Jacob, the governess of the family, who it now seems, was the real murderer, and the person who wove the chain of evidence around the widow that nearly led to her conviction.

Female Bicycle Contest.

CLEVELAND, Jan. 1.—At the finish of women's bicycle races last night Tillie Anderson defeated Dotie Farnsworth by four lengths in a 15-mile race; time, 42 minutes and 33 seconds. In the 5-mile race Pearl Keyes defeated Jennie Brown by two lengths in 14 minutes and 4 seconds. In the 2-mile race Amy Kilgren won over May Allen in 5 minutes and 58 seconds.

Coxey's Conference.

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 13.—General Jacob S. Coxey called to order the conference of reformers yesterday, who met pursuant to a call issued by the "Commonwealth" leader for the purpose of forming a new organization to take the place of the Peoples party, which he declared is dead.

Neuralgia of the Heart

Vanquished by Dr. Miles' Remedies.

MR. SIDLEY, of Torrington, Conn., suffered from just such a complication of diseases as the extensive experience and investigations of Dr. Miles have proven, result from impairment of the nervous system. Mr. J. B. Sidley writes Oct. 25, 1896: "My wife was taken sick with neuralgia of the heart, nervous exhaustion and liver trouble. Although attended by two physicians she grew worse, until she was at death's door. I then began giving her Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine and Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure, and she improved so wonderfully from the first that I at once dismissed the physicians. She now eats and sleeps well and does her own housework. We have recommended your remedies to a great many in our city, and every one has been very much benefited by them."

Gov. Mount is clearly in favor of an economical administration of state affairs. The governor has plenty of good common sense.

The county seat removal case is being argued before the supreme court to day. Ex-Congressman Jason B. Brown is making the principal argument for the removalists.

Hon. CHAR. W. FAIRBANKS will be the next United States senator from Indiana. His election will meet the approval of the people who know and appreciate his worth.

Savings banks report a large number of new depositors since the November election. This is one of the best proofs of returning prosperity and of the gradual improvement of business.

Since the failure of his lecture course, W. J. Bryan complains that he doesn't see any prosperity coming. Well, the people are not wasting much money just now on some brands of lectures.

The present legislature can do a great deal for the state by giving close attention to business and making a record for economy in the administration of state affairs. And by saving the state best, the legislature will serve the republican party best.

The matter of compulsory education will doubtless receive attention at the hands of the legislature. It is essential for the safety of our government that its citizens have at least a limited education. Where every citizen is a king it is necessary that ignorance shall not control his political action. We have one of the best school systems in the country and the per cent of illiteracy in the country is much smaller than in many of the states, but that is no reason why it should not be reduced still further.

The gold democrats have held their conference and determined to continue their organization and their fight against free silver. The popocrats declared that they will not receive the gold democrats back into their organization unless they renounce their allegiance to sound money. But such men as Palmer, Buckner, Flower, Bynum, Carlisle, Cockran and a host of others do not enlist in a cause merely to give up with the first struggle. This means that under present conditions the old democrat party will be permanently split and the Bryan wing can never gain sufficient power to menace the country. In fact, if the vote were to be taken again today, we doubt very much whether the Bryan following would show the strength it did on Nov. 3.

CHARLES W. FAIRBANKS.

A Brief Sketch of Indiana's Next U. S. Senator.

Charles Warren Fairbanks was born near Unionville Center, Union County, O., May 11, 1852. His parents, Leonard M. and Mary A. (Smith) Fairbanks, were born in Barnard, Vt., and Greene River, Columbiana County, N. Y., respectively. They emigrated to Union County, O., in 1836, and helped that part of state out of the wilderness. He worked on the farm and attended district school during his boyhood. From the district school he entered the Ohio Wesleyan University, at Delaware, O., from which he was graduated as a classical student in 1872. During his senior year he was editor of the Western Collegian, a journal published by the students of the university. Mr. Fairbanks decided to become a lawyer before he entered college, and worked and studied with that end in view. He was admitted to the bar by the supreme court of Ohio in 1874, and later in the year moved to Indianapolis. In October, 1874, he was married to Cornelia Cole, daughter of Judge J. B. Cole, of Marysville, O. His wife was graduated from the same college the same year as Mr. Fairbanks. They have five children. Mr. Fairbanks has been a successful practitioner, and has practised extensively in the federal and state courts in Indiana and the adjoining states. He has been engaged in many important cases.

He has been a trustee of the Ohio Wesleyan College for a number of years, taking an active interest in the welfare of his alma mater. He is one of the trustees of the Meridian Street Episcopal church, although not a member of any denomination. He is also a director of the Consumers' Gas Trust company, created by the citizens of Indianapolis to secure cheap fuel. He takes an active part in all matters which tend to advance the interest of the public or his neighbors. He is one of the founders of the Indiana law school, and a member of the faculty. He is a member of a number of literary clubs and societies, and has delivered many addresses before universities and assemblies. Mr. Fairbanks has never held any political office, preferring to devote himself to his family and chosen profession. He has been an ardent advocate of the principles of the republican party, and has spoken much in the campaigns of Indiana and other states. In 1895 he was chairman of the republican state convention, and delivered an address which was published as the "Campaign Keynote." In 1893 he was the unanimous choice of the republicans for United States senator in opposition to Hon. David Turpie, who was the democratic choice. Upon the return of President Harrison at the close of his term of office, Mr. Fairbanks delivered the formal address of welcome on behalf of the citizens.

His last political service of note was when he was chosen temporary chairman of the republican national convention of 1896 at St. Louis.

Even Russia is feeling the movement toward popular government and the autocratic czar is creating a supreme court to be decided on general principles of law and equity. The court of final appeal, however is to be the emperor himself.

Gov. Mount's administration has begun auspiciously. His inaugural address has made a favorable impression and backed by a republican legislature and a full set of republican state officers with a republican United States senator to be elected soon, he starts on his four years with many favorable conditions.

Ex-President Harrison pays a high tribute to Secretary Olney's statesmanship. When asked his opinion of the Venezuelan treaty he said: "Secretary Olney made himself a record for able statesmanship of which he may be proud. His administration of the office will long be remembered as that of a capable, strong official."

SENATOR SCHNECK's bill which provides for the appointment of public examiner will commend itself to most any one who will read and study its provisions carefully. The duties of this officer as prescribed in the bill are such as to give protection to the taxpayers of the state, and would assure economy in many instances where there is extravagance. It provides that the public examiner shall have supervision over the books and financial accounts of all the state's institutions, also of the state and county officers' records. Banking institutions organized under the state law shall be carefully examined by him. Building and loan associations shall be subject to his examination. In fact the purpose of the bill is to protect the interests of the people against the dishonesty of officers who disburse public funds, and the mismanagement of careless and unscrupulous officials of monetary institutions organized under the state law. The bill was introduced by Senator Schneck two years ago, but is now much more nearly perfect than it was when first introduced. He has given a great deal of earnest thought to its provisions.

MOTHERS MUST GUIDE.

Should Watch the Physical Development of Their Daughters.

Information They Should Furnish at the Proper Time—Knowledge by Which Suffering May Be Avoided.

Every mother possesses information of vital value to her young daughter. When the girl's thoughts become sluggish, with headache, dizziness, and a disposition to sleep, pains in back and lower limbs, eyes dim, desire for solitude, and a dislike to the society of children: when she is a mystery to herself and friends, then, her mother should come to her aid. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will, at this time, prepare the system for the coming change. See that she has it, and Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass., will cheerfully answer any letters where information is desired. Thousands of women owe their health to her and the Vegetable Compound, and mothers are constantly applying to her for advice regarding their daughters.

The will of the majority has prevailed in the caucus nomination of Hon. CHAR. W. FAIRBANKS for United States senator. The republican members of the Senate and house in giving him their votes only voiced the desire of the vast majority of their constituents. When this caucus nomination is ratified by the legislature and Mr. Fairbanks becomes the successor of Senator Voorhees the state of Indiana will have representation in the United States senate of which the citizens may well be proud. He will at once take rank with the most useful men at Washington and do valiant service for his country.

Watch Competitions

Very few people know that there are, in connection with the Geneva watch trade, competitions involving very large sums of money, a goodly proportion of which finds its way into England.

A certain number of watchmakers at Geneva nominate certain dealers in England who shall hold competition watches made by the former, and the names of such dealers are agreed to by the whole of the said makers. Prizes ranging from £300 downward are given to the makers whose particular watches shall keep the best time and remain in the finest condition during 12 months.

The English dealers who hold the watches during the 12 months have to keep a daily record in regard to the loss or gain of time evidenced by their charges, and they are of course in absolute honor bound to keep a correct one and not to tamper with the watches beyond winding them. No given maker's watch in the competition bears any name or distinctive mark other than peculiarities of construction by which the name of the maker can be identified by the holder. The watches are of the usual kind manufactured for trading purposes and not mere "exhibition" watches, and the holder of each prize winner receives one-half of the award—London Standard.

FILLED THE HOPPER

One Hundred Laws Introduced in the House and Senate.

TEACHERS' ASSOCIATION BILL.

The State Board of Commerce Bill for the Revision of the Laws Governing City, County and Township Business Was Presented to the Senate—Important Measures in the House.

INDIANAPOLIS, Jan. 13.—Tuesday's sessions of the two branches of the legislature were devoted almost entirely to the introduction of bills. Of these 57 were put in the hopper in the senate and 48 in the house. Among them were two additional anti-trust bills, one by Senator Gilbert and one by Representative Schoonover; amendment to the fee and salary law by Senators Hawkins and Hubbell and Representative Harris; a general bill revising the common school laws by Senator LaFollette, the bill agreed upon by the special committee of the teachers' association; an apportionment bill by Senator Hogate, a street railroad bill designed to limit the charter of the Indianapolis line and the insurance bill drawn by Judge Finch under the direction of the Commercial club, by Senator New; the state board of commerce bill looking to a general revision of the law governing city, county and township business, by Representative Linship and a bill by Representative Packard providing for examiners of public accounts.

The house listened to the reading of the journal and an eloquent prayer by Representative B. Wilson Smith, and then commenced the introduction of new bills. Among the bills introduced were two or three measures of importance.

IN THE HOUSE.

Legislative Expense Bill Passed as Amended by the Senate.

INDIANAPOLIS, Jan. 13.—Mr. Linch introduced the bill approved by the state board of commerce for the appointment of a commission of three to codify and revise the laws relating to city, county and township government. The bill appropriates $1,500 per year for two years for the expenses of the commission. Two compulsory education bills were introduced by Representative Patterson (Jay) and Monahan. Mr. Goddard introduced a bill permitting the deduction of mortgage indebtedness from the tax returns of real estate. Mr. Schoonover introduced the anti-trust bill defining and declaring unlawful trusts. Mr. Roots introduced a bill calculated to give the legislature some reliable information at each session as to the needs of the state's penal and benevolent institutions in the way of appropriations. It provides for the appointment of a commission of two representatives and one senator by the governor after each legislative election, and makes it the business of the commission to visit all these institutions and report upon them to the legislature. Representative Harris introduced bills to amend the fee and salary law so as to secure auditors and treasurers and to legalize the acts of county commissioners who have allowed these officers their salaries regardless of fees.

Representative Obannon of Washington introduced a bill to prohibit the making of gold contracts. The speaker remarked: "I do not understand that the bill could become a law without interfering with a section of the federal constitution and I have therefore sent it to the committee on federal relations."

Mr. Walrath introduced a joint resolution sustaining the Chicagoan's commission in its contention with the national park commission about the position of the Ninth Indiana on Snodgrass hill and it was referred to the federal relations committee.

The house concurred in the senate amendment making the appropriation for legislative expenses $105,000 and the bill was finally passed.

SENATE.

The senate was in session only about an hour Tuesday, but during that period 57 bills were introduced, among them the following of more than ordinary importance: Amend the act providing for the collection of school tax for libraries, providing for compulsory education, an anti-trust law, fee and salary law, revising common school laws, providing for a state library system and the method of taxation necessary.

Cuban resolutions expressing sympathy with the insurgents were introduced by Senators Gilbert and Patton, and were referred to the federal relations committee.

GENERAL STATE NEWS.

Landlord and Guests of a Hotel Endangered.

NEW CASTLE, Ind., Jan. 13.—Albert Spell, family and 12 guests of the Indiana hotel were found yesterday lying on the floor in an unconscious condition. They had been nearly suffocated by escaping gas. When resuscitated all were seized with violent fits of vomiting. Eugene Runyon and wife also had a narrow escape from asphyxiation. Mr. Runyon is ill and his wife is suffering from a broken arm, the result of a fall from her horse at West Baden springs. It is thought all will recover.

COUNCILMAN'S CRAZY FEEL.

KOKOMO, Ind., Jan. 13.—Last night John A. Slider, councilman from the Third ward, jumped from the roof of his two-story business block with the intention of committing suicide. He fell on the brick pavement breaking both legs in several places. He is still alive but will die.

DEATH OF DR. CHARLTON.

SEYMOUR, Ind., Jan. 13.—Dr. Samuel H. Charlton, brother of the superintendent of the reform school, died here yesterday, aged 70. He was well known throughout the state.

"My daughter, when recovering from an attack of fever, was a great sufferer from pain in the back and hips," writes Loudon Grover, of Sardis, Ky. "After using quite a number of remedies without any benefit she tried one bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm, and it has given entire relief." Chamberlain's Pain Balm is also a certain cure for rheumatism. Sold by C. W. Milhous.

AUNT MALINDA BENTON

Celebrates Her Ninety First Birthday at Brownstown.

A special from Brownstown to the Enquirer says:

Aunt Malinda Benton, of this place, who, until the death of her twin sister several months ago, bore the unique distinction of being one of the oldest twins living, passed her ninety-first birthday Sunday. As usual, she had quite a number of callers, whom she entertained with many interesting reminiscences of early life.

Her twin sister, who died last summer, was Mrs. Amanda Tuel, of Terre Haute. They were born and raised in this county, and were known as "The Pretty Twins."

They were both married on the same day, there being over 300 guests present at the wedding. It is remarkable how Aunt Malinda has retained her beauty in her old age.

The depot employes and business men made themselves busy in cleaning the pavement of snow to-day.

Rev. Charles E. Herbst and son, of Waymansville, spent some time in the city last evening. They were here to see Hon. O. H. Montgomery on business.

Look For Better Times.
A railroad official who keeps well informed expresses the opinion that the present year will see a clearing up of most of the wreckage of railroads caused by the long period of financial trouble, which he thinks is now apparently close to its end.

He thinks that in a few months the receiverships of the Louisville, New Albany & Chicago, the Louisville, Evansville & St. Louis, the Vandalia and the Toledo, St. Louis & Kansas City roads will be at an end, and that the roads of Indiana, Illinois and Ohio will begin a series of prosperous years.

He added that through the depressed times such economy had been enforced that in future the railways will be operated on a more economical scale, and the investor in railroad properties will have some return on his money.

DIED
Dr. Grafton Manuel, a pioneer citizen and prominent physician of Free-town, died at his home Sunday, January 10, 1897, with chronic trouble of long standing. His age was sixty-five years. He leaves a family.

Mrs. Richard M. Hensley, who has been an invalid for nearly twenty years, died at 7 o'clock Tuesday evening, January 12, 1897. A violent attack of erysipelas set in the first of the week, which is thought to be the direct cause of her death.

She was a dutiful wife and mother. A husband survives who has the sympathies of all. Her age was 70 years, 2 months and 10 days. The funeral will take place at 10 o'clock to-morrow morning from the residence, corner of Blush and Fifth streets. Burial in Riverview. Religious services by Rev. J. M. Baxter.

Dr. Miller's Pain Expeller.
Difficult to Suggest Improvements on the Pennsylvania Lines.

If the United States were ambitious to challenge the world for a comparison of railroad systems, liberal and judicious management and completeness of equipments, she could place the East and West system under the control of the Pennsylvania Company, against all outside competitors without any mis-giving whatever as to the outcome.

The great English engineer, Harry Pollitt, chief engineer of the Manchester Sheffield & Lincolnshire Railway Co., is now in this country on a tour of inspection. Of the Pennsylvania system Mr. Pollitt speaks in terms of the highest praise.

"Without intending to discriminate," he says, "I must give the palm to the Pennsylvania. I was particularly impressed with the nicety of detail of this road, and the closeness with which English methods have been adopted and in some instances improved. Your principal advantage over us is the superior education and intelligence of your employees, and to that must be attributed much of your success in economy and management."

The editor of this paper and two or more of his assistants are in a condition to knowingly endorse every word of the eminent English engineer's eulogy of the Pennsylvania system, and do so without hesitation or reservation. It would be difficult, indeed, to suggest an improvement in either construction, management or equipment.—Exchange.

HAVE A LIVELY DAY

Senators Allen and Vilas Have a Spirited Tilt.

HOMESTEAD BILL DISCUSSED.

Johnson and Maguire of California Occupy Most of the House's Time on a Question of Privilege—Johnson Defended—Boatner Succeeds Crisp on the Ways and Means Committee.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13.—Some lively political sparring marked the later hours of the senate session yesterday. The free homestead bill was under discussion and Mr. Allen found opportunity for questioning Mr. Vilas of Wisconsin, concerning the party differences of last fall. It brought out much difference of opinion as to whether the Democratic platform was made at Chicago or at Indianapolis. Mr. Vilas declared that there was almost nothing in the Chicago platform not in the interests of the government. He insisted that the Indianapolis platform was founded throughout in Democracy. Mr. Allen characterized the Indianapolis platform as a "rump affair." The controversy became very lively and took a wide range.

The homestead bill was further debated but a vote was not reached. Mr. Vilas attacked it as a measure giving away $35,000,000 of government money. Mr. Nelson (Rep. Minn.) Mr. Allen and Mr. Pepper (Pop. Kan.) spoke for the bill.

Mr. Hill (Dem. N. Y.) who has not often addressed the senate of late, spoke in favor of a law fixing four years as the term of four-class postmasters.

HOUSE PROCEEDINGS.

Day Taken Up in a Wrangle Between Two Members From California.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13.—The house yesterday witnessed a sensational sequel to the remarkable attack made by Mr. Johnson of California on Editor Hearst. Mr. Johnson and Mr. Maguire (Dem., Cal.) were the antagonists. Their words flew out of the publication in the Record as a part of Mr. Maguire's remarks or comments on the former's speech last week, in which Mr. Maguire defended Mr. Hearst, and without the mention of Mr. Johnson's name, detailed some matters in the early life of the latter when he resided in Syracuse, N. Y.

Mr. Johnson got the floor on a question of privilege. He was at times dramatic. He denounced Mr. Maguire's attack on him as wanton and cowardly, and told the story of his indictment 34 years ago in New York for forgery and how he had gone out to California to rear a new home and make a new name. He described his success and how he had been able to pay back every dollar he owed. Then, with bitter invective, he paid his respects to Mr. Maguire and Mr. Cooper of Wisconsin, who last week characterized his attack on Mr. Hearst as cowardly.

Mr. Maguire replied to Mr. Johnson in a sarcastic vein. He told how he had attempted to secure time in which to reply to Mr. Johnson during the debate and had been unable to do so, and how he had printed his defense of a man unable to secure a hearing for himself. He sneered at Mr. Johnson for whining because his attack went home to him and said he should have thought of the grief and anguish he was bringing to another before he assailed Mr. Hearst.

Mr. Poole of N. Y., who represents the Syracuse district made a brief statement in vindication of Mr. Johnson. His motion to expunge Mr. Maguire's remarks from the record was adopted, but a similar motion to expunge Mr. Johnson's remarks about Mr. Hearst was defeated, 82 to 94. This incident overshadowed interest in the house proceedings. Just before the adjournment, however, Speaker Reed announced the committee appointments made vacant by the death of ex-Speaker Crisp, which have caused so much speculation.

Mr. Bailey of Texas, was appointed to the vacancy on the rules committee and Mr. Boutwell of Louisiana, to that on the ways and means.

Early in the day the speaker sustained the point of order against the motion to recommit the Pacific funding bill.

Allison Recommended Wilson.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13.—Senator Allison said yesterday that the report that President-elect McKinley had decided to invite ex-Representative Wilson of Iowa, to a place in his cabinet as secretary of agriculture at his (Allison's) suggestion, had for its foundation the fact that he had recommended Mr. Wilson for this office to Mr. McKinley. "I hope," he added, "that Mr. Wilson's fitness has so grown upon Major McKinley as to decide him to make the appointment as reported."

Olney's Interpretation.
WASHINGTON, Jan. 13.—Secretary Olney, replying to a question of the Russian minister, Mr. E. De Kozebue, as to whether the arbitration treaty with England was offensive and defensive or anything in the nature of an alliance, said that the question might be answered yes and no. That in theory and diplomatic acceptance it was not an alliance, but that it is an alliance in support of the Monroe doctrine, which England recognized by terms of the Venezuelan treaty.

Extended For Two Years.
WASHINGTON, Jan. 13.—The house committee on public lands yesterday authorized a favorable report on a bill providing that old settlers on Northern Pacific railroad lands, whose rights would have been forfeited Jan. 1, 1897, for noncompliance with the law, shall have an additional term of two years in which to comply with the regulations.

CABINET SECRETS.

General Grosvenor Says Sherman Will Be Secretary of State.

CLEVELAND, Jan. 13.—General C. H. Grosvenor came to Cleveland last night from Canton, spent a few hours in conference with Chairman Hanna, and departed for Washington. General Grosvenor said that he did not go to Canton to discuss the tariff situation with Mr. McKinley. "I thoroughly understand Mr. McKinley's views on the tariff," he said, "and it was not necessary for me to discuss that subject with him. I did talk with him about the cabinet situation. Senator Sherman is to be the next secretary of state. He practically told me that himself the other day. I want to say, also, that Senator Sherman's appointment to the state department is not contingent upon the appointment of Mr. Sherman's successor in the senate. That does not enter into it."

Speaking further General Grosvenor said that Senator Allison was not asked to take the state portfolio; that he was offered the treasury portfolio and declined it. Mr. Grosvenor said that Congressmen Dingley was out of the question in connection with the treasury department because of his health. The general said that the new tariff bill will be ready for introduction at the extra session of congress, which President McKinley will call in March.

DYNAMITE EXPLOSION.

Two Men and Two Women Killed and One Man Fatally Injured.

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 13.—An explosion in the factory of the Columbian Dynamite company at Shannopin, 18 miles below this city, completely demolished the mill and instantly killed two men and two women and badly injured a third man. The dead are:

T. D. STICKNEY, superintendent of the works.
ROSE INMAN, aged 20.
MATTIE INMAN, aged 14.
PETER McCLOSKEY, employe.
Walter Crane was badly injured but may recover.

It is not known how the explosion occurred, but it is thought one of the employees must have jarred one of the vessels in which the deadly fluid was kept. The force of the explosion was felt for 25 miles around. In nearby towns houses were rocked, store goods were thrown from the shelves and the residents were terror stricken, many believing the shock was due to an earthquake.

IN COMMISSION.

United States Dynamite Cruiser Vesuvius at League Island.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 13.—The United States dynamite cruiser Vesuvius was formally placed in commission at the League island navy yard yesterday. The Vesuvius has been thoroughly overhauled and has been provided with all her guns except the two dynamite tubes. It is understood that when the Vesuvius sails from this port her final destination will be the coast of Florida, which she will patrol for filibustering ships.

Harrison Extols Olney.

NEW YORK, Jan. 13.—Ex-President Harrison came quietly to town yesterday alone, on a business trip. He would not talk about President-elect McKinley's cabinet. When asked his opinion of the Venezuelan treaty he said: "Secretary Olney has made for himself a record for able statesmanship of which he may well be proud. His administration of the office will long be remembered as that of a capable, strong official."

Agreement Adopted.

OTTAWA, Ont., Jan. 13.—The dominion cabinet has adopted the agreement which was entered into by Sidney Fisher and the authorities at Washington on the question of quarantine. International quarantine is thus abolished between Canada and the United States and rigid inspection put in force between each country. Quarantine against other countries will remain.

Fortina Re-elected.

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Jan. 13.—George C. Perkins was yesterday re-elected United States senator receiving the majority of the votes in both branches of the legislature. The majority on joint ballot was 19.

TO REFORM FINANCES

Monetary Conference Effects a Permanent Organization.

COMMISSION VERY PROBABLE.

C. Stuart Patterson of Philadelphia Permanent Chairman and Evans Woolen of Indianapolis, Permanent Secretary. Pertinent Views of Some of the Leading Members of the Convention.

INDIANAPOLIS, Jan. 13.—The monetary convention began yesterday with over 400 delegates in their seats, and seldom, if ever, has a more substantial or finer looking body of men gathered for any particular purpose in the country. There is not a man among them who does not rank high in his own community and exert a large influence at home. C. Stuart Patterson of Philadelphia, was made permanent chairman and Evans Woolen of this city, permanent secretary.

Mr. Patterson is a tall, handsome man of 60 years, full bearded, with streaks of silver in hair and beard that have once been jet black. He is probably the most prominent lawyer in Philadelphia, a director of the Pennsylvania railroad, vice president of the Western Saving fund, director of the Pennsylvania Steel company, and dean of the law school of the University of Pennsylvania. While not a great deal can be presaged from the first session of the convention, it is likely that the plan that has been incubated by the executive committee will be carried through; that is, that the matter will drift into the hands of a commission to be appointed by this convention.

It is likely that the convention will adopt resolutions pointing out the faults of the present currency system and laying down a few fundamental principles upon which a new system should be based. In doing this work there is likely to be a very considerable division of opinion upon the problem of the greenbacks. Many eastern delegates favor a flat declaration for the immediate retirement of the greenbacks and treasury notes of 1890, but it will be easy to accomplish this, and many plans for retaining the greenbacks and obviating the danger with which they continually menace the gold reserve of the treasury will be suggested. A few expressions of leading spirits of the convention will serve to show somewhat the trend of opinion.

H. H. Hanna of Indianapolis said: "I am convinced that our financial system should be reformed to meet the needs of commerce, and I am convinced that this can best be done by a high-class commission, and then, after the commission has finished its work, seeing that it is accepted by the country and enacted into law by congress."

George Foster Peabody of New York said: "What we want to do is to get the business men of this country to devise a plan to reform the currency and banking system. This convention is an admirable idea of such a purpose. It is nonpartisan—no politics about it. I think the idea of a commission is very good. It is better than keeping the convention in session until a plan is devised. The thing that is reforming the financial system, it can do that. Then, if it is deemed wise, we can appoint a large committee to get the necessary legislation."

Congressman J. H. Walker, chairman of the banking and currency committee of the house said: "I think the convention should be held early and the principles upon which the finances of the country and the national banking system should be liberalized and reorganized. The convention should appoint a strong committee to impress upon congress the necessity of immediate action in carrying out these views. I am decidedly not in favor of a plan to retain the greenbacks. It is necessary to do so completely the banking and currency system of the country from any connection with the United States treasury. The relation of the government to our banking and currency system should be that of supervision, and the guaranteeing of the final payment of all currency issued by bank or by the government."

All resolutions will go through the hands of the resolutions committee before being reported for debate. It is understood that the committee will bring in a resolution for the appointment of a commission and though there is considerable difference of opinion as to how this commission should be selected, it is likely that the delegation from each state will be asked to submit a number of names to a nominating committee, that this nominating committee may report favorably upon two or three times as many names as are required to compose the commission and then let the convention choose the commission out of these by ballot.

Caused by Apoplexy.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Jan. 13.—An autopsy on the body of William H. Sinclair, the railroad promoter and contractor of New York and Galveston, who died here suddenly, showed that his death was caused by apoplexy.

TELEGRAPH BRIEVITIES.

IT IS FAIRBANKS.

Bolt in the Caucus to Nominate a United States Senator.

INDIANAPOLIS, Jan. 13.—The senatorial caucus was held last night. The last day of the contest was productive of so much activity that it proved an interruption to legislative business and neither house held an afternoon session. During the day the topic of interest in the senatorial fight was the question of whether there should be an open or secret ballot in the caucuses. The followers of McKen desired a secret ballot and fought hard to this end, but the Fairbanks managers favored an open ballot and they soon had obtained the signatures of 55 members to it. When this became known to the opposition things began to take on a rather ugly look. Eighteen or 20 of the members opposed to Mr. Fairbanks, under the leadership of Senator Duncan declared that unless the Fairbanks people would agree to a secret ballot they would decline to go into the caucuses.

The Fairbanks managers determined upon a plan of having a secret ballot, with the reservation that any man who cared to might announce his vote. The caucus got under way at 8 o'clock, and the Fairbanks organization went through by acclamation, making Senator Newby chairman and Representative Henderson secretary. When it was decided to proceed with the nomination of the senator, Senator Shively offered a resolution that the vote be by secret ballot, but those desiring to should have the privilege of announcing their vote.

This was opposed by the opponents of Fairbanks, led by Senator Hubbell, and the proposition was warmly debated for half an hour. Finally a vote was taken, and the Shively resolution was adopted by a vote 53 to 38. Thereupon a bolt from the caucus was led by Senator Duncan, followed by Senators Hubbell, Bozeman, O'Brien, Collett, Kerns, and Early and Representatives Morgan, Stetler, Rose, Patterson of Fulton, Berry, Medsker, McCrea and Butler, 16 in all. These senators went to the senate chamber and held a caucus there.

The main caucus rescinded the resolution and sent committees to the recalcitrant members, but they stayed out fully an hour. Finally they all marched back and after some oratory was indulged in in presenting the names of candidates a ballot was taken, resulting in the nomination of Mr. Fairbanks by a vote of 60 to 25 for the three, divided as follows: McKen, 21; Wallace, 3; Taylor, 3; Frank B. Posey, 1; General Harrison, 1; Judge John H. Baker, 3. A committee was sent out for Mr. Fairbanks and he addressed the caucus.

ATTACKED CALVARIOUS.

Insurgents Reported to Have Captured and Sacked the Town.

KEY WEST, Fla., Jan. 13.—Reports from Havana are that the insurgents sacked Calvarious, less than ten miles from the city, drove out the Spanish garrison of 700, burned nearly half the place, seized a large amount of supplies, destroyed all they could not carry off, and spiked two fine large field pieces that they could not take away. These two guns had just been received by Weyler only last week. One bore Weyler's name and the inscription, "To aid Weyler's glorious deeds." The retreating Cubans defaced the inscription and placed a placard on it reading: "Butchers need only cleavers." Two hundred wounded soldiers came into Havana Friday and Saturday. All information regarding them was refused, and they were hastily sent to the hospitals.

Confessed in Court.

YOKOHAMA, Jan. 13.—The trial of Mrs. Walter Case, who is charged with poisoning her husband by administering to him arsenic, between Oct. 15 and Oct. 22 last, the day of his death, has been brought to a dramatic close, by the appearance and confession in court of Miss Mary Jacob, the governess of the family, who it now seems, was the real murderer, and the person who wove the chain of evidence around the widow that nearly led to her conviction.

Female Bicycle Contest.

CLEVELAND, Jan. 1.—At the finish of women's bicycle races last night Tillie Anderson defeated Dottie Farnsworth for four lengths in a 15-mile race; time, 43 minutes and 35 seconds. In the 5-mile race Pearl Keyes defeated Jennie Brown by two lengths in 14 minutes and 4 seconds. In the 2-mile race Amy Kilgren won over May Allen in 5 minutes and 58 seconds.

Coxey's Conference.

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 13.—General Jacob S. Coxey called to order the conference of reformers yesterday, who met pursuant to a call issued by the "Commonwealth" leader for the purpose of forming a new organization to take the place of the Peoples party, which he declared is dead.

Neuralgia of the Heart

Vanquished by Dr. Miles' Remedies.

MRS. SIDLEY, of Torrington, Conn., suffered from just such a complication of diseases as the extensive experience and investigations of Dr. Miles have proven, result from impairment of the nervous system. Mr. J. B. Sidley writes Oct. 25, 1896: "My wife was taken sick with neuralgia of the heart, nervous exhaustion and liver trouble. Although attended by two physicians she grew worse, until she was at death's door. I then began giving her Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine and Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure, and she improved so wonderfully from the first that I at once dismissed the physicians. She now eats and sleeps well and does her own housework. We have recommended your remedies to a great many in our city, and every one has been very much benefited by them."

Gov. Mount is clearly in favor of an economical administration of state affairs. The governor has plenty of good common sense.

The county seat removal case is being argued before the supreme court to day. Ex-Congressman Jason B. Brown is making the principal argument for the removalists.

HON. CHAR. W. FAIRBANKS will be the next United States senator from Indiana. His election will meet the approval of the people who know and appreciate his worth.

Savings banks report a large number of new depositors since the November election. This is one of the best proofs of returning prosperity and of the gradual improvement of business.

Since the failure of his lecture course, W. J. Bryan complains that he doesn't see any prosperity coming. Well, the people are not wasting much money just now on some brands of lectures.

The present legislature can do a great deal for the state by giving close attention to business and making a record for economy in the administration of state affairs. And by saving the state best, the legislature will serve the republican party best.

The matter of compulsory education will doubtless receive attention at the hands of the legislature. It is essential for the safety of our government that its citizens have at least a limited education. Where every citizen is a king it is necessary that ignorance shall not control his political action. We have one of the best school systems in the country and the per cent of illiteracy in the country is much smaller than in many of the states, but that is no reason why it should not be reduced still further.

The gold democrats have held their conference and determined to continue their organization and their fight against free silver. The popocrats declared that they will not receive the gold democrats back into their organization unless they renounce their allegiance to sound money. But such men as Palmer, Buckner, Flower, Byrum, Carlisle, Cockran and a host of others do not enlist in a cause merely to give up with the first struggle. This means that under present conditions the old democrat party will be permanently split and the Bryan wing can never gain sufficient power to menace the country. In fact, if the vote were to be taken again to day, we doubt very much whether the Bryan following would show the strength it did on Nov. 3.

CHARLES W. FAIRBANKS.

A Brief Sketch of Indiana's Next U. S. Senator.

Charles Warren Fairbanks was born near Unionville Center, Union County, O., May 11, 1852. His parents, Lemuel M. and Mary A. (Smith) Fairbanks, were born in Barnard, Vt., and Greene River, Columbiana County, N. Y., respectively. They emigrated to Union County, O., in 1836, and helped that part of state out of the wilderness. He worked on the farm and attended district school during his boyhood. From the district school he entered the Ohio Wesleyan University, at Delaware, O., from which he was graduated as a classical student in 1872. During his senior year he was editor of the Western Collegian, a journal published by the students of the university. Mr. Fairbanks decided to become a lawyer before he entered college, and worked and studied with that end in view. He was admitted to the bar by the supreme court of Ohio in 1874, and later in the year moved to Indianapolis. In October, 1874, he was married to Cornelia Cole, daughter of Judge J. B. Cole, of Marysville, O. His wife was graduated from the same college the same year as Mr. Fairbanks. They have five children. Mr. Fairbanks has been a successful practitioner, and has practised extensively in the federal and state courts in Indiana and the adjoining states. He has been engaged in many important cases.

He has been a trustee of the Ohio Wesleyan College for a number of years, taking an active interest in the welfare of his alma mater. He is one of the trustees of the Meridian Street Episcopal church, although not a member of any denomination. He is also a director of the Consumers' Gas Trust company, created by the citizens of Indianapolis to secure cheap fuel. He takes an active part in all matters which tend to advance the interest of the public or his neighbors. He is one of the founders of the Indiana law school, and a member of the faculty. He is a member of a number of literary clubs and societies, and has delivered many addresses before universities and assemblies. Mr. Fairbanks has never held any political office, preferring to devote himself to his family and chosen profession. He has been an ardent advocate of the principles of the republican party, and has spoken much in the campaigns of Indiana and other states. In 1895 he was chairman of the republican state convention, and delivered an address which was published as the "Campaign Keynote." In 1893 he was the unanimous choice of the republicans for United States senator in opposition to Hon. David Turpie, who was the democratic choice. Upon the return of President Harrison at the close of his term of office, Mr. Fairbanks delivered the formal address of welcome on behalf of the citizens. His last political service of note was when he was chosen temporary chairman of the republican national convention of 1896 at St. Louis.

Even Russia is feeling the movement toward popular government and the autocratic czar is creating a supreme court to be decided on general principles of law and equity. The court of final appeal, however is to be the emperor himself.

Gov. Mount's administration has been auspicious. His inaugural address has made a favorable impression and backed by a republican legislature and a full set of republican state officers with a republican United States senator to be elected soon, he starts on his four years with many favorable conditions.

Ex-President Harrison pays a high tribute to Secretary Olney's statesmanship. When asked his opinion of the Venezuelan treaty he said: "Secretary Olney made himself a record for able statesmanship of which he may be proud. His administration of the office will long be remembered as that of a capable, strong official."

SENATOR SCHNECK's bill which provides for the appointment of public examiner will commend itself to most any one who will read and study its provisions carefully. The duties of this officer as prescribed in the bill are such as to give protection to the taxpayers of the state, and would assure economy in many instances where there is extravagance. It provides that the public examiner shall have supervision over the books and financial accounts of all the state's institutions, also of the state and county officers' records. Banking institutions organized under the state law shall be carefully examined by him. Building and loan associations shall be subject to his examination. In fact the purpose of the bill is to protect the interests of the people against the dishonesty of officers who disburse public funds, and the mismanagement of careless and unscrupulous officials of monetary institutions organized under the state law. The bill was introduced by Senator Schneck two years ago, but is now much more nearly perfect than it was when first introduced. He has given a great deal of earnest thought to its provisions.

MOTHERS MUST GUIDE.

Should Watch the Physical Development of Their Daughters.

Information They Should Furnish at the Proper Time—Knowledge by Which Suffering May Be Avoided.

Every mother possesses information of vital value to her young daughter. When the girl's thoughts become sluggish, with headache, dizziness, and a disposition to sleep, pains in back and lower limbs, eyes dim, desire for solitude, and a dislike to the society of children: when she is a mystery to herself and friends, then, her mother should come to her aid. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will, at this time, prepare the system for the coming change. See that she has it, and Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass., will cheerfully answer any letters where information is desired. Thousands of women owe their health to her and the Vegetable Compound, and mothers are constantly applying to her for advice regarding their daughters.

The will of the majority has prevailed in the caucus nomination of Hon. Char. W. Fairbanks for United States senator. The republican members of the Senate and house in giving him their votes only voiced the desire of the vast majority of their constituents. When this caucus nomination is ratified by the legislature and Mr. Fairbanks becomes the successor of Senator Voorhees the state of Indiana will have representation in the United States senate of which the citizens may well be proud. He will at once take rank with the most useful men at Washington and do valiant service for his country.

Watch Competitions.

Very few people know that there are, in connection with the Geneva watch trade, competitions involving very large sums of money, a goodly proportion of which finds its way into England.

A certain number of watchmakers at Geneva nominate certain dealers in England who shall hold competition watches made by the former, and the names of such dealers are agreed to by the whole of the said makers. Prizes ranging from £300 downward are given to the makers whose particular watches shall keep the best time and remain in the finest condition during 12 months.

The English dealers who hold the watches during the 12 months have to keep a daily record in regard to the loss or gain of time evidenced by their charges, and they are of course in absolute honor bound to keep a correct one and not to tamper with the watches beyond winding them. No given maker's watch in the competition bears any name or distinctive mark other than peculiarities of construction by which the name of the maker can be identified by the holder. The watches are of the usual kind manufactured for trading purposes and not mere "exhibition" watches, and the holder of each prize winner receives one-half of the award.—London Standard.

FILLED THE HOPPER

One Hundred Laws Introduced in the House and Senate.

TEACHERS' ASSOCIATION BILL.

The State Board of Commerce Bill for the Revision of the Laws Governing City, County and Township Business Was Presented to the Senate—Important Measures in the House.

INDIANAPOLIS, Jan. 13.—Tuesday's sessions of the two branches of the legislature were devoted almost entirely to the introduction of bills. Of these 57 were put in the hopper in the senate and 48 in the house. Among them were two additional anti-trust bills, one by Senator Gilbert and one by Representative Schoonover; amendment to the fee and salary law by Senators Hawkins and Hubbell and Representative Harris; a general bill revising the common school laws by Senator LaFollette; the bill agreed upon by the special committee of the teachers' association; an apportionment bill by Senator Hogate; a street railroad bill designed to limit the charter of the Indianapolis line and the insurance bill drawn by Judge Finch under the direction of the Commercial club, by Senator New; the state board of commerce bill looking to a general revision of the law governing city, county and township business, by Representative Linok and a bill by Representative Packard providing for examiners of public accounts.

The house listened to the reading of the journal and an eloquent prayer by Representative B. Wilson Smith, and then commenced the introduction of new bills. Among the bills introduced were two or three measures of importance.

IN THE HOUSE.
Legislative Expense Bill Passed as Amended by the Senate.

INDIANAPOLIS, Jan. 13.—Mr. Linok introduced the bill approved by the state board of commerce for the appointment of a commission of three to codify and revise the laws relating to city, county and township government. The bill appropriates $1,600 per year for two years for the expenses of the commission. Two compulsory education bills were introduced by Representative Patterson (Jay) and Monaghan. Mr. Goddard introduced a bill permitting the deduction of mortgage indebtedness from the tax returns of real estate. Mr. Schoonover introduced the anti-trust bill defining and declaring unlawful trusts. Mr. Root introduced a bill calculated to give the legislature some reliable information at each session as to the needs of the state's penal and benevolent institutions in the way of appropriations. It provides for the appointment of a commission of two representatives and one senator by the governor after each legislative election, and makes it the business of the commission to visit all these institutions and report upon them to the legislature. Representative Harris introduced bills to amend the fee and salary law so as to relieve auditors and treasurers and to legalize the acts of county commissioners who have allowed these officers their salaries regardless of fees.

Representative Obannon of Washington introduced a bill to prohibit the making of gold contracts. The speaker remarked: "I do not understand that the bill could become a law without interfering with a section of the federal constitution and I have therefore sent it to the committee on federal relations."

Mr. Walrath introduced a joint resolution sustaining the Chicagoan's suggestion in its contention with the national park commission about the position of the Ninth Indiana on Snodgrass hill and it was referred to the federal relations committee.

The house concurred in the senate amendment making the appropriation for legislative expenses $105,000 and the bill was finally passed.

SENATE.
The senate was in session only about an hour Tuesday, but during that period 57 bills were introduced, among them the following of more than ordinary importance: Amend the act providing for the collection of school tax for libraries, providing for compulsory education, an anti-trust law, fee and salary law, revising common school laws, providing for a state library system and the method of taxation necessary.

Cuban resolutions expressing sympathy with the insurgents were introduced by Senators Gilbert and Patton, and were referred to the federal relations committee.

GENERAL STATE NEWS.
Landlord and Guests of a Hotel Endangered.

NEW CASTLE, Ind., Jan. 13.—Albert Spell, family and 12 guests of the Indiana hotel were found yesterday lying on the floor in an unconscious condition. They had been nearly suffocated after eating with violent fits of vomiting. Eugene Runyon and wife also had a narrow escape from asphyxiation. Mr. Runyon is ill and his wife is suffering from a broken arm, the result of a fall from her horse at West Baden springs. It is thought all will recover.

Monthly Illustrated
Edited by ALBERT SHAW.
"If only one magazine can be taken, we would suggest the REVIEW OF REVIEWS, as covering more ground than any other magazine."—Board of Library Commissioners of New Hampshire, 1896.
THIS magazine is, in its contributed and departmental features, what its readers, who include the most noted names of the English-speaking world, are pleased to call "absolutely up to date," "thoroughly abreast of the times," "invaluable," and "indispensable." It is profusely illustrated with timely portraits, views, and cartoons. Its original articles are of immediate interest, by the best authorities on their respective subjects. The Editor's "Progress of the World" gives a clear, rightly proportioned view of the history of the human race during the current month. The "Leading Articles of the Month" present the important parts of the best magazine articles that have been written in every part of the world. The newest and most important books are carefully reviewed. Indexes, chronological records, and other departments complete the certainty that the reader of the REVIEW OF REVIEWS will miss nothing of great significance that is said or written or done throughout the world.

"The value of a reputable newspaper should not be overlooked," says an eastern school superintendent. "In the hands of a judicious teacher, it is an educational factor which does not receive the attention it deserves. This means that current as well as ancient history should be taught in the public schools, and that pupils should be kept in touch with prevailing influences and tendencies."

The progressive ladies of Westfield Ind., issued a "Woman's Edition" of the Westfield News, bearing date of April 3, 1896. The paper is filled with matter of interest to women, and we notice the following from a correspondent, which the editors printed, realizing that it treats upon a matter of vital importance to their sex: "The best remedy for croup, colds and bronchitis that I have been able to find is Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. For family use it has no equal. I gladly recommend it." 25 and 50 cent bottles for sale by C. W. Milhouse.

AUNT MALINDA BENTON

Celebrates Her Ninety First Birthday at Brownstown.

A special from Brownstown to the Enquirer says:
Aunt Malinda Benton, of this place, who, until the death of her twin sister several months ago, bore the unique distinction of being one of the oldest twins living, passed her ninety-first birthday Sunday. As usual, she had quite a number of callers, whom she entertained with many interesting reminiscences of early life. Her twin sister, who died last summer, was Mrs. Amanda Tuel, of Terre Haute. They were born and raised in this county, and were known as "The Pretty Twins." They were both married on the same day, there being over 300 guests present at the wedding. It is remarkable how Aunt Malinda has retained her beauty in her old age.

Rev. Charles E. Herbst and son, of Waymansville, spent some time in the city last evening. They were here to see Hon. O. H. Montgomery on business.

Look For Better Times.

A railroad official who keeps well informed expresses the opinion that the present year will see a clearing up of most of the wreckage of railroads caused by the long period of financial trouble, which he thinks is now apparently close to its end. He thinks that in a few months the receiverships of the Louisville, New Albany & Chicago, the Louisville, Evansville & St. Louis, the Vandalia and the Toledo, St. Louis & Kansas City roads will be at an end, and that the roads of Indiana, Illinois and Ohio will begin a series of prosperous years. He added that through the depressed times such economy had been enforced that in future the railways will be operated on a more economical scale, and the investor in railroad properties will have some return on his money.

DIED.

Dr. Grafton Manuel, a pioneer citizen and prominent physician of Free-town, died at his home Sunday, January 10, 1897, with chronic trouble of long standing. His age was sixty-five years. He leaves a family.

Mrs. Richard M. Hensley, who has been an invalid for nearly twenty years, died at 7 o'clock Tuesday evening, January 12, 1897. A violent attack of erysipelas set in the first of the week, which is thought to be the direct cause of her death. She was a dutiful wife and mother. A husband survives who has the sympathies of all. Her age was 70 years, 2 months and 10 days. The funeral will take place at 10 o'clock to-morrow morning from the residence, corner of Blish and Fifth streets. Burial in Riverview. Religious services by Rev. J. M. Baxter.

Dr. Miller's Pain Expeller. Difficult to Suggest Improvements on the Pennsylvania Lines.

If the United States were ambitious to challenge the world for a comparison of railroad systems, liberal and judicious management and completeness of equipments, she could place the East and West system under the control of the Pennsylvania Company, against all outside competitors without any misgiving whatever as to the outcome.

The great English engineer, Harry Pollitt, chief engineer of the Manchester Sheffield & Lincolnshire Railway Co. is now in this country on a tour of inspection. Of the Pennsylvania system Mr. Pollitt speaks in terms of the highest praise. "Without intending to discriminate," he says, "I must give the palm to the Pennsylvania. I was particularly impressed with the nicety of detail of this road, and the closeness with which English methods have been adopted and in some instances improved. Your principal advantage over us is the superior education and intelligence of your employees, and to that must be attributed much of your success in economy and management."

The editor of this paper and two or more of his assistants are in a condition to knowingly endorse every word of the eminent English engineer's eulogy of the Pennsylvania system, and do so without hesitation or reservation. It would be difficult, indeed, to suggest an improvement in either construction, management or equipment.—Exchange.
